TOLEDO TO DAYTON

Limited Service over the Toledo Urban & Interurban Electric.

Wonderful advancement has been made in electric railway service during the past five years. Previous to that the people of this State were surprised at the number of electric lines that were being constructed, and while the people were ready to accept the service for short runs, on account of the frequent passing of cars and the cheap rates, but few anticipated the present system of running trains which has been reduced to a science equalling that of operating passenger trains on the steam roads—but it is a fact—and every effort is being made by the progressive Managers of electric lines to reduce time and to make the service safe and comfortable.

Chas. F. Smith, General Manager of the Toledo Urban & Interurban electric railway is one of the foremost and most progressive Managers and has much to his credit in the matter of perfection of long distance electric rapid transit. He has established limited train service between Toledo and Dayton by which passengers can ride from Toledo to Dayton without change of cars, passing through the residence portion of all the important towns on the route, making the trip in—hours at a rate about half of that charged by the steam roads.

To insure safety the Dispatcher system has been put in service—every car, both the limited and local, being operated under orders of the train dispatcher, by the use of telephones. The Dispatcher knows the exact location of every car along the entire line and thus facilitating the operation of the cars and greatly reducing the possibility of accident.

The ride from Toledo to Dayton over this line is most delightful because of the excellent road bed, the luxurious cars, the freedom from dust and cinders and the rapid transit.

"Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is the best remedy for that often fatal disease—croup. Has been used with success in our family for eight years."—Mrs. L. Whiteacre, Buffalo, N. Y.

DROWNED IN RIVER

Dr. C. M. Showman Met Death While Bathing.

While in bathing near Pioneer Inn, on the Maumee river west of the Grand Rapids bridge, Dr. C. M. Showman, a prominent physician of North Baltimore was drowned Thursday.

He was attending a family reunion at the river, and with others went into the river. He was the only one of the family who could swim, and while the others remained in the shallow water, he struck out for a swim in the deep water and while making a dive he failed to come up and was in the water 45 minutes before being taken out.

A postmortem demonstrated that he had died of heart failure.

ADDITION TO WALBRIDGE

J. C. and A. C. Loop, of Walbridge, two well known farmers of that section, have plotted an addition to the east side of the village containing 45 lots. F. Wenz made the survey which is now a matter of record at the court house.

Old malds would be scarce and hard to find.

MUSIC PAVILION

Perrysburg Should Have Place for Open Air Concerts.

Now that the Monument park is filled in and placed in condition so that it will soon be a place of beauty and a credit to the village, there is great need of a music pavilion suitable for the use of the village band and give the band an opportunity to favor the people with open air concerts.

In many of the progressive western towns the business men arrange for special amusements to be given on one or two special days during each month, especially during the Summer and Fall, and so popular have these days become with the people from the surrounding country and near-by towns that everybody arranges to "go to town" and enjoy the afternoon and evening.

Perrysburg could well afford to make some similar arrangement for the pleasure and profit of the town people and especially our near-by neighbors.

The town has an excellent musical organization in the W. O. W. band, and if a suitable music pavilion is constructed the band will undoubtedly be willing to supply the music.

A pavilion could be constructed on the Monument park for a very reasonable amount and would be a source of much pleasure and benefit to the people.

The JOURNAL holds a $10.00 check from Frank M. Hoover of Pittsburg, Pa., formerly of this place, which is to be used as a starter for a subscription to raise sufficient money to build the pavilion. To this sum the Perrysburg Journal will add $5. Who will be next? The list starts as follows:

Frank M. Hoover, $10.00

SKY SCRAPING

Henry McAllister Enjoys Floating among the Clouds.

Henry McAllister is home for a brief rest while he strengthens his knee which was injured by a drop from the balloon in which he had made an ascension at Youngstown a few days since.

The accident was caused by the ascension being made late in the afternoon and darkness came on before he landed, which caused him to miscalculate his distance from the ground when coming down and he let go his parachute when about 30 feet up thinking he was about five feet above the earth at which time it is necessary to drop from the parachute to prevent it settling on the aeronaut.

Henry first began making ascensions through a wager. He was stage manager of the summer theatre at Youngstown park and an ascension was to be made by a Chicago man who failed to reach the park on time. Henry remarked to a friend that he would make the ascension if the manager would take him on regularly afterwards. His friends laughed at him and said he was afraid to climb a step ladder to say nothing of making a balloon ascension. Henry said, "I'll show you," and immediately made arrangements to make the trip. He did so, and was delighted, and has been scraping the cobwebs off the clouds every day since until he came home for a brief rest.

He says the ride in the clouds is very fascinating and feels there is but little danger if the balloon gets a clear start from the ground. His only really dangerous trip was made from a park where the balloon was torn in getting up and did not get high enough to allow him to cut loose with the parachute and he was dragged through an oak tree which scratched him up considerably but did not cause serious injury.

He is arranging to make an ascension in Perrysburg on Saturday evening, August 11, at 6:30 o'clock, on Main street.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE

Prof. S. D. Fess and Prof. Dyer, Principal Speakers.

The annual institute of the Wood County Teachers' Association will be held in the high school building in B. G. commencing Monday August 13 and extending till the evening of Friday, August 17. Tuesday and Wednesday evenings there will be lectures by the gifted instructors who will be here and the latter evening will be especially devoted to social interests.

At almost the last moment it has been learned that Prof. R. N. Roark of Worcester, Mass., could not be present and Prof. N. D. O. Wilson, had the good luck to secure S. D. Fess of the Chicago University to fill the vacancy.

Supt. F. B. Dyer of the Cincinnati schools will be the other instructor and Miss Charlotte Field, Supervisor of Music in the Findlay schools will be here and have charge of that part of the programme and will give the teachers any assistance and instruction she can in her line.

The lectures of course will be upon different subjects each day. The forenoon session will commence at 8:30 with devotional exercises, followed by music. The two lectures will be the closing events of the sessions both morning and afternoon.

Prof. S. D. Fess is one of the brightest thinkers of this part of the country on school lines and has considerable of a reputation as an institute speaker. He was formerly a professor in the Ohio Northern University at Ada.

R. N. Roark the man who was to have been here, says the Tribune, was appointed last spring to a position at the head of one of the two normal universities authorized by the last general assembly of Kentucky, but there was opposition to the opening of the schools and the matter went into the courts. The decision of the supreme court has just been handed down and it is in favor of the schools and as a result Prof. Roark has been ordered to get busy at once with the work which has been so long delayed. The decision of the court has caused him to cancel all of his Ohio dates.

Superintendent Dyer comes from Cincinnati and is one of the real good institute men in the state. He has had a great experience in both the large and the small schools and is well qualified for the work of lecturing here and the teachers of the county are especially favored in having two as great men as Prof. Fess and Supt. F. B. Dyer.

FARMER'S PICNIC

Will be Held at Vollmars August 15.

The annual gathering of the Wood County Farmers' Picnic association will be held at Vollmar's club house, Wednesday, August 15. A splendid programme has been arranged for and all are invited.

J. H. Brigham, of B. G., in speaking of it said that the speakers would be the best ever secured by the association and that besides the oratorical part of the programme, there would be sport as usual and some good prizes would be offered.

The day will be devoted to the benefit and pleasure of the farmers and the largest attendance ever known is expected. All interested in farms, farmers or farmers' daughters are invited to be there with their baskets.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Rather Dull, But something Doing Every Day.

John D. Muir and eleven others have filed suit against Minnie Weddell and eleven relatives to contest the will of William Dunipace.

It is alleged that the will which was probated and bears the date of May 12, 1903, was not the last will and that this will was made when Dunipace was not of sound mind or memory, and that he was coerced and unduly influenced into signing it.

The petition also states that the old gentleman, during his last illness, while too feeble to be about requested Minnie Weddell and Ben Stone to get the paper which is now filed in probate office that he might destroy it, but that they conspired together and prevented the destruction of the paper.

Isabella Dunipace, deceased, was one of the legatees of the will and as she died unmarried and left no will, her share would belong to her heirs and upon this ground, also, the plaintiffs claim the will should be set aside. The Dunipace estate is quite valuable.

Albert J. Steele, through his attorney, S. P. Harrison, of North Baltimore, has filed a petition in error with the county clerk asking the court to set aside the verdict of Mayor Fulton in the case of North Baltimore vs. the plaintiff in error.

Steele alleges that the mayor was all wrong in finding him guilty and in sentencing him, and wants the verdict dismissed.

Steele is charged with having offered for sale at his bar in the Columbia Hotel, intoxicating liquors on Sunday, July 15, and that he had in direct violation of the village ordinances, curtains and frosted glass obstructing the free view through the place.

The mayor fined Steele $25 and costs the sentence being suspended till the higher court rules on the case.

Joe Baird, who was arrested at Sandusky a few days ago for the alleged defrauding of the old couple—Mr. and Mrs. Nausbaum, at Bairdstown, of their hard earned savings, amounting to about $275, was arraigned recently and pleaded not guilty and gave bond for his appearance in court on August 14.

Baird is held on the charge of having persuaded his old neighbors to turn the money they had in the bank over to him, after which he skipped out.

He went to Indiana, where he remained for a time, and then wandered back to Sandusky, where the sheriff caught him.

Mr. Baird says that the Nausbaum's owed him $150 for thirty years and that some time ago he came in possession of $275 of their money. He (Continued on Eighth Page.)
